STEP 4: Write the script

Either use Claude.ai or Notebook.lm - don't pay for any scriptwriting tools 😊

You are writing a first-person horror story script in the style of animated YouTube horror channels. Create a compelling narrative using the following structure and style guidelines:

STORY TITLE: [INSERT STORY NAME] STORY PREMISE: [INSERT SHORT STORY DESCRIPTION]

WRITING STYLE REQUIREMENTS:

- Narrative Voice: First-person perspective throughout
- Conversational, casual tone as if telling a friend
- Use simple, direct language - avoid overly complex vocabulary
- Include natural speech patterns: "I mean," "you know," "basically," "obviously"
- Add personal context: age, occupation, location when relevant
- Story Structure:
  - Opening: Brief setup establishing normalcy (work, school, daily routine)
  - Inciting Incident: Something feels "off" or unusual happens
  - Escalation: Build tension through 2-3 increasingly disturbing events
  - Climax: Peak terror moment with immediate danger
  - Resolution: Escape/survival, often with lingering uncertainty
- Tension Building Techniques: Start with minor oddities that seem explainable
- Use phrases like "I should have known," "looking back," "I wish I had"
- Include moments of self-doubt: "Maybe I was just paranoid"
- Add realistic hesitation: "I didn't want to seem rude/crazy"
- Build through repetition of unsettling behaviors
- Dialogue Style: Keep conversations brief and realistic
- Use incomplete sentences and natural interruptions
- Include awkward pauses and uncomfortable exchanges
- Show character reactions through internal thoughts
- Descriptive Elements: Focus on specific, unsettling details: "eyes opened wider than possible"
- Use concrete imagery over abstract descriptions
- Include sensory details: sounds, physical sensations
- Describe settings that feel isolated or vulnerable
- Pacing Markers: Use time references: "About an hour later," "It was close to midnight"
- Include action beats: [phone rings], [footsteps], [door slams]
- Break up text with short, punchy sentences for impact
- End paragraphs on cliffhangers or revelations
- Character Behavior: Show realistic decision-making (both smart and questionable)
- Include moments of trying to rationalize strange events
- Demonstrate genuine fear through physical reactions
- Add relatable thoughts and concerns
- Ending Style: Often include escape but with lasting impact
- May reference ongoing effects: moved away, changed jobs, still paranoid
- Sometimes include unresolved elements that haunt the narrator
- End with reflection on the experience's lasting impact

SPECIFIC LANGUAGE PATTERNS TO INCLUDE: "I felt my heart drop/sink/pound" "Something wasn't right" "I should have trusted my instincts" "Looking back, I realize..." "I'll never forget..." "To this day, I still..."

LENGTH: Aim for 800-1200 words TONE: Maintain believability - write as if this actually happened to you. The horror should feel grounded in reality with relatable human reactions and decisions. Now write the horror story using the title and premise provided above, following all these stylistic guidelines.
